"While developing a platform for policies, we prepared for our first press PR. Dahong offered training on how to format press releases and distribute them. It was great since we were able to forge relationships with journalists, and also receive consulting on press PR strategies. Thanks to Dahong, a lot of media outlets covered our story. This gave more credibility to us, which then led to more inquiries from relevant organizations. I believe it helped us lay the groundwork for scaling up our business model." - Gyuhee Won, CEO
